

Explore the Forest Service

We Are Hiring

START
HERE  https://www.fs.usda.gov/working-with-us/jobs/events/srm

Visit www.USAJOBS.gov to search for job announcements.
Use the keyword search box to search by job title.

What jobs are available?

Full-time jobs for recent grads:

- ▲ Archeologist
- ▲ Botanist
- ▲ Fish biologist
- ▲ Geologist
- ▲ Hydrologist
- ▲ Land Surveyor
- ▲ Plant pathologist
- ▲ Rangeland management specialist
- ▲ Range technician
- ▲ Soil scientist
- ▲ Wildlife biologist

Student trainee positions in:

- ▲ Archeology
- ▲ Biological sciences
- ▲ Engineering
- ▲ Natural resources
- ▲ Physical sciences
- ▲ Rangeland management

Where are the jobs located?

across the USA

Who can apply?

College students and recent grads.

Go to www.USAJOBS.gov and submit an application between February 14 and 20.

Have questions or need help with USAJOBS.gov ?

Connect with the Forest Service at one of the Job Seeker Webinars:

Thurs., Feb. 13 5-6 p.m. EST
Thurs., Feb. 20 5-6 p.m. EST

- Learn how to apply at USAJOBS.gov.
- Ask questions.
- Meet Forest Service employees virtually.

<https://usfs.adobeconnect.com/fsjobs/>

What does the Forest Service do?

The Forest Service cares for natural resources and their lasting economic, ecological, and social vitality. While managing national forests and grasslands, employees connect with nature and engage with people.

Get Paid to Work in the Great Outdoors

Forest Service

Southern Region

R8-MR-54

February
2020

USDA is an equal opportunity provider, employer, and lender.

USDA Forest Service

Caring for the land and serving people

Learn about Hiring and Recruitment Events

Contact a Recruiter in the Southern Region

Open smart phone camera and hover over QR code